Rapid test for detecting Influenza A and B

Influenza viruses are the best known human pathogens. In particular, influenza A viruses cause global epidemics in which mortality rate is high specially in risk groups. Influenza A and B are among the most important causes of medically attended acute respiratory illness worldwide.

Biosynex INFLUENZATOP is a rapid chromatographic immunoassay for the qualitative detection and differentiation of Influenza type A (including subtypes A/H1N1, A/H3N2, A/H5N1) and type B antigens in human nasopharyngeal specimens to aid in the diagnosis of Influenza infection.
